

#AbleTo

Five tips to support students with disabilities on their career journeys

Champion change and close the employment gap for students with disabilities using research-based practices, tools and resources from our Field Guide. Start today with these five tips for making your career services more supportive and agile.

- 1 Redesign career events to increase accessibility
- 2 Guide employers on accessible hiring practices
- 3 Empower staff with targeted training and collaboration
- 4 Offer accessible online and in-person resources
- 5 Focus on strengths and knowledge to build confidence in students

Ready to learn how you can put these tips into action?

Go to: ableto.ca/prepare-students-for-work/

Thank you to La Cité, University of Guelph, Algonquin College, University of Ottawa, George Brown College, Lakehead University and Carleton University for your valuable insights. Your collaboration has been essential in shaping these strategies.